*Included with the official online retailer of the Bronco Invasion event would be the following marketing program.

All Bronco Invasion participants get an official retailer club discount code. Whatever you do for the clubs, do one for us so we can track order activity. Only the people in our database will get that code via email only, we won't post it to the public.. We will run social promos for people to sign up for our email list so we capture their data and then send them the codes in monthly updates.

We will send out a monthly product email (info supplied by you) on the 1st and 15th of every month to our databases. You pick a special buy product for each month just for Bronco Invasion participants.

On social channels we will share and repost content that you put out to all our platforms. We will literally be flooding our participants and followers with content throughout the year. Frequency of shared posts can be discussed. Once a week feels comfortable.
